SCHAUMBURG, IL – Mutare Software recently announced the addition of Sheila A. Aschenbrenner to its nationwide sales force. Ms. Aschenbrenner will be responsible for sales and support of Mutare's full line of IVR software products and solutions throughout the western region, including the states of Idaho, Nevada, Washington, Oregon and California.

Aschenbrenner comes to Mutare from Cincinnati Bell Technology Solutions where, as Sales Manager, she oversaw all sales efforts in the state of Michigan with a concentration on Avaya voicemail platforms. Throughout her tenure she consistently exceeded sales quota, growing the customer base from zero to more than 150 in less than three years. Prior to that she worked for TIC Enterprises (formerly PSA Communications) where she advanced to Regional Vice President, managing a sales force of more than 100 individuals throughout a seven-state region.

As regional manager for Mutare Software, Aschenbrenner will leverage her expertise in telecommunications technology sales and relationships as well as her 13-year working relationship with Mutare's business partner, Avaya, to further extend Mutare's presence in the western region and service to its customers. She is an Avaya Certified Specialist in Messaging Design and Implementation.

Founded in 1989, Mutare Software specializes in interactive voice and Web applications development. Focusing on innovative solutions for Unified Communications and Business Continuity, Mutare is also a leader in custom solutions that enable clients to streamline costs, automate communications, respond to emergencies, meet regulatory requirements and increase productivity.
