Mutare Teams Up with Westcon

March 11, 2010, Schaumburg IL – Mutare Software announced today a partnership with the Westcon Group Inc., the leading specialty distributor in networking, convergence, security and mobility for distribution of Mutare’s entire line of Communication software and services for messaging and IVR applications. Mutare specializes in middleware solutions that power faster decisions, profitable transactions, and solidify closer relationships between customers, employees and suppliers.

The Westcon partnership gives Mutare a much broader partner base including integrators as AT&T, Verizon, Bell Canada, Telus and others. Mutare’s innovative product lineup includes EVM Plus™, an email agnostic unified communications application that works with all Avaya voice mail platforms, as well as giSTT™ speech to text service that converts enterprise voicemail messages to text for delivery to the subscriber’s email inbox.

“We are very pleased to partner with Westcon” said Ben Crown, President of Mutare Software, “The market potential for EVM Plus and giSTT speech to text alone is well over $3 billion in annual recurring revenues, and our partnership with Westcon will help us sell through a large re-seller network greatly amplifying our customer reach.”

Mutare’s applications are compatible with the vast majority of Westcon Group’s vendor solutions including Avaya, Nortel, Cisco, Microsoft and Polycom, enabling Westcon’s systems integrators to provide enhanced messaging and communication solutions for enterprise customers.

Mutare Software is changing the way business communicates. Innovative messaging solutions such as EVM Plus with giSTT speech to text enable employees to read voice mail messages in email for faster decisions, profitable transactions, and closer relationships between customers, employees and suppliers. With high value Mutare applications such as interactive voice response, sales go up and expenses go down.
